

DANIELLE M. BURNSIDE

Danielle Burnside is the Corporate Controller at Industrial Outdoor Ventures (IOV). Danielle brings more than twenty years combined experience in residential development, commercial and industrial real estate to the company. Danielle is responsible for managing accounting processes across the IOV platform, including overseeing yard operations in both Texas and Colorado.

Danielle's career spans accounting and human resource functions across a variety of industries, including technology and real estate. Before joining the company, Danielle founded DMB Accounting—a small, full-service accounting firm for more than thirty diverse companies. In addition to DMB, Danielle worked at B&B Enterprises, a land development company specializing in residential and small commercial developments. During her time at B&B, Danielle was responsible for managing accounting, reporting and budgeting for a diverse range of clients spanning developers, investment companies and associations. Before entering the real estate industry, Danielle worked in a financial and human resource capacity in the technology space in the telemarketing and financial services industries.

Danielle graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Accounting from Southern Illinois University.
